On 28 March, the exhibition 'Letters to the Mayor' opens at the Association's headquarters in Plaça Nova, representing a kaleidoscope of Barcelona in the form of 70 letters from architects and professionals in other disciplines associated with the creation of value for the city.

To prepare the project?curated by Ricardo Devesa, Xavier González and Núria Moliner?architects and other professionals were asked to write a letter, on paper, to the Mayor of Barcelona, expressing their feelings, concerns and interests in relation to the city.

The exhibition will run until 5 May and features the letters presented in a multi-sensory space where they can be read in different formats. There will also be a post-box available for visitors to send their own letters to the Mayor.

This project was originally the idea of Storefront for Art & Architecture in New York, curated by Eva Franch, and has since taken place in other cities such as Athens, Buenos Aires, New York and São Paulo.

Please confirm attendance. ^[3]
